

Intro to Business Valuation - DCF

A 3-part learning session hosted by Stout

Welcome to Valuation Advisory

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 2 PM ET / 11 AM PT

During this session, we will introduce Valuation Advisory and its different groups. We will discuss various methods of valuation and explore the thought process behind why we focus on discounted cash flows (DCFs). We will review the steps involved in creating a DCF in preparation for our interactive modeling exercise in week two. After our exercise, we will host an analyst panel where you will hear from recent graduates and those who have done internships in valuation to learn more about their experiences.

Discounted Cash Flow Workshop

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 2 PM ET / 11 AM PT

During the first week, we explained the basics of the DCF. This week, you will gain hands-on experience in this interactive workshop led by our female valuation professionals. During this time, we will walk through each part of the DCF, explaining and building the model with you as we go. Upon completion of the model, our female leaders will share their experience and insight into the field of valuation.

Putting It All Together: Client Deliverables

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 2 PM ET / 11 AM PT

Here, Stout professionals will walk you through what the findings mean and how this work is incorporated into client deliverables. You will gain insight into what the numbers mean, their relation to one other, and how to apply the math that was calculated as part of your completed DCF model. Before we wrap up, we will share additional opportunities for you to be involved with the valuation team at Stout.
